This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INSPECTORS' REPORT.

MICHIGAN STATE PRISON,
Jackson, Michigan, September 30, 1881.

To the HON. DAVID H. JEROME, Governor of Michigan:

The inspectors of the Michigan State Prison submit their annual report for the year ending September 30, 1881.

The more important matters proper to be embodied in this report are contained in detail in the report of the warden. The facts therein tabulated are interesting and instructive. His report and those of the chaplain and physician are herein submitted and made a part of this report, and special attention is called to them.

By act No. 206, section 2 of the laws of 1881, it is required that the board of each State institution shall, by the first day of November preceding the regular session of the Legislature, make out and present to the Governor a detailed statement of the operations of the institution for the two fiscal years closing on the thirtieth day of the preceding September, which shall include the report of the superintendent, warden, or other proper officer, etc.

It, therefore, being necessary under the law to make, in 1882, a full report embracing the operations of the prison for two years, we herein present only a brief summary of such matters as it seems to us should be annually known.

FINANCIAL.

The earnings of the prison for the year ending September 30, 1881, from all sources were	$91,767 95
The expenses during the same period	88,445 85
Earnings above expenses	$3,322 10
The earnings in 1880, as appears by the books of the prison, were	$95,129 67
Expenses	84,517 66
Balance of earnings over expenses	$10,612 01
The earnings from convict labor alone were, in 1880	$91,419 44
The same in 1881	87,912 16
Less in 1881 than in 1880	$3,507 28

The falling off of net earnings in 1881 from the earnings of 1880 can be accounted for in various ways:

The average number of convicts in prison in 1880 was	812
The average number in 1881 was	753
Number less in 1881 than in 1880 was	59
The number on contracts at the close of the year 1880 was	549
The number at the close of 1881 was	496
A number greater in 1880	53

The falling off shows itself, on the several contracts, as follows:

Cooper contract in 1880	59 men.
The same in 1881	50 "
A loss of		9
Withington & Cooley manufacturing Co., in 1880	175 men.
" " " " 1881	172 "
A loss of		3
Austin, Tomlinson & Webster man'f'g Co., in 1880	138 men.
" " " " " 1881	104 "
A loss of		34
Pingree & Smith, shoe contract, in 1880	60 men.
" " " " " 1881	50 "
A loss of		10
Broom shop, in 1880	63 men.
" " " 1881	58 "
A loss of		5
Sutter Brothers, cigar contract, in 1880	54 men.
" " " " " 1881	62 "
A gain of	8
All showing a loss from contracts of		61
A gain on one contract of		8
Net loss		53 men.

Thus it will be seen that the number of men working on contracts was fifty-three (53) less at the close of 1881 than in 1880. The earnings of these fifty-three men, were they at work, would more than make the difference between the earnings of 1880 and 1881, and were it not that the per-diem wages on some of the contracts were larger in 1881 than in 1880, the difference in the earnings of the two years would have been larger than it really is.

The following shows the amount received for convict labor and all other sources going to make up the income of the prison in detail:

Contracts—
Austin, Tomlinson & Webster manufacturing Co.	$26,651 94
Withington & Cooley manufacturing Co.	24,669 92
Pingree & Smith	6,775 12
Schultz, Sattler & Co.	6,838 23
Sutter Brothers	8,455 49
G. C. Wetherbee & Co.	324 00
		$73,714 70
Departments—
Chaplain's department	$1 50
Hall master's department	3 30
Engineer's department	1,371 08
Assignment No. 5	2,426 05
Broom shop	7,098 96
Steward's department	1,001 82
Yard master's department	771 09
Carpenter's department	1,517 97
Physician's department	5 69
		14,197 46
Other sources—
Visitors (gate money)	$2,905 10
Support U. S. convicts	776 74
Interest on labor account	173 75
		3,855 59
Total		$91,767 75

The net receipts for making brooms were $6,562.48, leaving for the expense of the broom shop $536.48.

The prospect for an increase in the net earnings of the prison is not encouraging. The necessary expenses do not decrease in proportion to the diminution in the number of convicts. It requires as many keepers and guards to take care of seven hundred men as eight hundred, and the expense, except for subsistence, would be only a small per cent larger with one thousand convicts instead of the present number. It is also noticable that the proportion of those convicted of crime and sentenced to this prison, who are inefficient and useless, is increasing. It would seem to be a wise policy that those who are convicted of crime and sentenced to serve a term in prison as a punishment for their crime, should be placed where they can not only earn their living but a surplus over and above their support. It is reasonable that the State should be repaid by the labor of the convict for the trouble and expense it has incurred in consequence of his misdeeds.

THE NUMBER IN PRISON DURING THE YEAR.

The number at the commencement of the year was	778
Received during the year on sentence	216
Whole number in prison during the year	994
Discharged by expiration of sentence, pardoned, death, etc., as will be seen in the warden's report	295
Leaving in prison at the close of the year	699

The average number for the year, as we have before seen, was, in 1880	812.5
The average in 1881	753.9
Showing a less average number in 1881 than of 1880 of	58.6

VALUE OF PRISON PROPERTY.

The appraisers appointed by the board to fix the value of the property of the prison, both real and personal, at the close of the year, report as follows:

Real estate value		$546,783 33
Personal property	$61,229 22
Cash on hand	8,438 76
		69,667 98
The aggregate amounting to		$616,451 31

The valuation at the close of 1880, was:

Real estate	$548,219 55
Personal property	48,618 27
Cash on hand	9,799 82
		$603,637 64
Increase in 1881 over 1880		$12,813 67

The larger proportion of this increase is from the larger amount of personal property on hand in 1881 over 1880. The difference in the value of the real estate is as follows:

Real estate in 1881	$546,783 33
The same in 1880	545,219 55
Showing an increase in 1881 of	$1,563 78

This increase of the value of the real estate of the prison in 1881 over the valuation in 1880 is for improvements made during the year and paid for from the earnings of the prison.

FARM PRODUCTS.

The small amount of land cultivated furnishes as large if not a larger per cent of profit than any other industry of the prison. About sixteen acres are in a condition to be profitably worked, and this is mostly done by men who would not be available for work in the shops. Of course it is reasonable to suppose that the income from a small piece of land, highly cultivated, may be more in proportion than from the working of a much larger area. There are from sixteen to eighteen acres more of prison land that can be made available for farm and garden production, and it is safe to say that when this additional land is underdrained and put in condition for use, we can reasonably expect, notwithstanding the larger area, that the income from the whole will be as large in proportion from the land cultivated as at present.

The value of the land production for the year 1881, fairly estimated and in many things at a less price than it would cost to purchase, was	$2,127 55
The whole expense attending this cultivation aside from prison labor, was	142 17
Leaving a balance of profit of	$1,983 48

There is charged to this account seven hundred and eighty (780) days' work done by convicts. If we estimate the value of the labor at the average price received from contractors and to this add the salary of a guard, there still remains a large profit. It is intended to make the balance of the land available for cultivation as soon as possible.

COAL PRODUCT.

As we anticipated last year, nearly enough coal has been taken from the old shaft for the consumption of the prison during the year. None has as yet been raised from the coal land recently purchased. We are now putting down a shaft on this land, and when in working order, with greater conveniences and appliances than we have hitherto had, we shall have the ability to produce a much larger amount of coal from the labor expended. Or if it is thought best to confine our production to the limit of our own consumption, it can be done at a proportionately less cost. The winter of 1880–81 being an exceptionally severe one, more fuel than usual was required. We also now furnish power and heating to the shoe shop which adds to the consumption.

The number of tons of coal mined during the year was		2,495.9
Amount sold		32
Leaving for our own use		2,463.9
The whole amount consumed was	$2,556\frac{653}{1,000}$
Purchased to supply the deficiency		$92\frac{707}{1,000}$
The coal mined was worth at its minimum value three dollars per ton, amount mined 2,495.9 tons, value		$7,487 70
The whole expense of mining, aside from convict labor		815 76
Leaving for net earnings		$6,670 94

To this account is charged 5,194 days' work of convict labor. If no other element than convict labor in the cost of production is considered, the earnings are equal to $1.28 per man per day.

OVER WORK.

Many people outside of the prison have been led to believe that convicts are overworked. Especially under the contract system, it is supposed that the selfish interests of the contractors leads them to demand the largest amount of labor possible, and that in this way, for the purpose of increasing the products of the men, an unreasonable amount of labor is required, and that the convicts are driven by a fear of punishment of some sort to conform to these requirements. We think this a mistaken idea. The contractors are men no more nor any less selfish than other men, and they well know that their best interests are subserved by treating their men fairly and by exacting no more from them than is just and reasonable. The system pursued is similar to that in free labor shops. Just as far as the nature of the work is such as to render it allowable the men are given task work, or piece work as it would be called in outside shops. Of course this task work operates unequally in some respects, for while the more intelligent and ingenious men will get their ten hours' work in six or eight hours, the duller or more unwilling man will work the whole time and then sometimes fail to complete his task. This is an exception to the general rule, and whenever such a case is reported an investigation is made to find where the fault lies, and there is care taken that the tasks imposed upon the men are not over-burdensome. As evidence that these tasks are not oppressive, we state the important fact that convicts working on contracts have, during the past year, by voluntary over-work, earned for themselves the sum of nine thousand four hundred and eighty-five dollars and eighty-five cents. This sum has been paid by the contractors to the prison, and been credited to the convicts in proportion to their several earnings. This money is in many cases remitted by the convict to his family, and what remains, if any, is paid to him at the expiration of his term. It is not unreasonable to suppose that some at least have in this way done more for the comfort of their families than they would have done had they remained outside.

APPROPRIATIONS.

By act No. 264 of the Legislature of 1881 an appropriation is made for the years 1881 and 1882, of the sum of thirty-eight thousand dollars, to be expended for repairs and improvements to the State prison.

1st. For erecting a building two stories in height, one hundred and thirty-two feet in length by fifty-nine feet in width, with a cellar under the whole building, the first story to be used as a general storage-room for prison supplies and the second story to be divided into suitable rooms for the accommodation of the prison school, twenty-two thousand dollars.

2d. For rebuilding the old portion of the shop occupied by the Withington & Cooley Manufacturing Co., one hundred and seventy feet long by one hundred and twelve feet wide, sixteen thousand dollars.

The needs of the prison being urgent, the plans for the first-named building were prepared and bids advertised for in accordance with the provisions of the act; but no bid being received that came within the appropriation, the contract was not let. Whether the plans can be so modified that a building answering all the purposes for which it was designed can be erected for the sum appropriated is a matter yet to be determined.

It is intended to advertise for proposals for the erection of the shop for the Withington & Cooley Manufacturing Company, and if we can obtain bids that will bring the cost of the building within the sum appropriated for the purpose, it will be erected the coming season. If it should be found impossible to obtain bids for the erection of the buildings, for the sum appropriated, it would be greatly regretted. The efficiency and usefulness of the school cannot be fairly tested with our present limited accommodations. The erection of the shop, not alone, or principally to give better facilities to the contractors, but to promote the health and ensure the safety of the convicts, seems to be an absolute necessity. We have no doubt that the buildings could be erected with a smaller outlay of money if it were allowed to be done by the prison authorities. We have now in the employ of the prison a superintendent who is fully competent for any such work. He is not only thoroughly competent but his familiarity with everything connected with prison improvements, from long service, would enable him so to purchase material and utilize labor as to ensure the improvements being made at a minimum cost—at a less cost, we believe, than any outside contractors could do it—and the work would probably be more thoroughly done.

That the general policy of advertising for proposals for the erection of public buildings and of letting contracts for their erection to the lowest responsible bidder, is a wise one, we have no doubt. Whether a wise one or not, it is the general policy, and of this there is no complaint to be made, but we believe, notwithstanding, that in particular cases such a policy can only be carried out at a pecuniary loss.

SCHOOL.

About the time of making up our last report it was determined to establish a school for the instruction of convicts in the common branches of education. Under the laws of 1873 and of 1875 a school had been maintained in a small way under the direction of the chaplain. We are satisfied that the school, as thus conducted, was conducive of good, and it seemed desirable that it should be placed upon a broader basis. In our last report we say: "Hitherto all the instruction the convicts have had in the ordinary branches of education has been given by the chaplain and under his direction. Experience has shown, as we think, that the limited instruction the chaplain has been able to give, in addition to his other duties, has been followed by good results. It has been found that a large number of the convicts desire to avail themselves of the privilege granted by the law, and seem to wish to make the best use of it. Being satisfied that something more is desirable in this direction than has hitherto been attempted, we have concluded to employ a teacher for the coming year who shall devote his whole time in furnishing suitable instruction in reading, writing, and such other branches of education as experience may show that it is expedient to teach. A competent teacher has been employed, and the school will be put into immediate operation, under proper rules and regulations. That good effects will follow, we have no doubt. Aside from the knowledge the convict may acquire, it will furnish a healthful occupation for the mind—much more conducive to good conduct than the dreary meditations of the cell."

The Legislature, at its session of 1881, in section sixty-one (61) of act No. 284 of said session, provided that "a school shall be maintained in the prison for the education of convicts confined therein. It shall be conducted under such regulations as are approved by the board of inspectors." All acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith are repealed.

In an addendum to the warden's report of 1880 is laid out a plan of the work in this department, course of study, etc.

The revised rules for the government and discipline of the prison, adopted by the board of inspectors September 9, 1881, contain the following:

PRISON SCHOOL.

Rule 116. A school for the instruction of convicts in the common branches of an English education shall be maintained as nearly as may be as now established.

Rule 117. All subordinate prison officers, whose prison duties do not require their habitual attendance elsewhere during school hours, will be assigned as teachers to the different classes, and teaching such classes will constitute a part of the regular duties of such officers.

Rule 118. The appointment of any person to any prison office or place will not hereafter be approved by the board of inspectors unless the appointee is competent to act as a teacher in the prison school.

Rule 119. A teachers' class will be maintained, the sessions of which will be held as often and at such time as the superintendent, with the approval of the warden, may designate. All officers not actually engaged on other prison duty will habitually attend the sessions of this class.

Rule 120. Special rules of order, not in conflict with other rules, for the direction and management of the prison school, may from time to time be issued by the warden. Such rules shall remain in force until revoked or superseded by other rules or orders by the board of inspectors or by the warden.

To regulate the attendance of the convicts and to produce the greatest good therefrom, the following rules, 90 and 91, were adopted.

Rule 90. They are required, except as noted in Rule 91, to attend regularly at the prison school, and to pursue diligently the studies assigned to them. Repeated failure in recitations will be an evidence of a lack of the required diligence, and will be a breach of this rule.

Rule 91. The convicts excepted from the requirements of rule 90 are those employed on necessary prison night work, also those mentally incompetent to receive instructions, the sick and those physically unable, from old age or other causes, to attend.

We have been careful to investigate the processes and results of the establishment of the school, and we believe its success has been all that could reasonably have been anticipated. The greatest drawback at present is the want of suitable room. In the addendum to the last report of the warden is the following:

"The chapel is used as a school-room, and the most is made of its capacity, but, except the lower classes which recite each evening, it is found impossible to get through with the classes oftener than once in two weeks; while, under the present limited amount of room available for school purposes, the benefit to the convict is marked, very much better results could be reached with the same corps of instructors if the prison were furnished with a building, properly divided and furnished for educational purposes."

This is as true now as then. In view of the importance of remedying this evil, the Legislature, at its last session, after a thorough examination of the matter by the proper committees, made an appropriation for a suitable building to be erected for school and other purposes. As yet no progress has been made toward the erection of such a building, for the reason given in another part of this report.

The management of the prison in all its departments has been good. Attention to the duties incumbent upon them has characterized the officers and employés. The discipline and general health will compare favorably with any former year, and it is believed that, in some cases at least, reformatory influences have produced the desired results. We express our thanks to the warden and all subordinate officers for their intelligent and continuous labors for the successful administration of the affairs of the prison.

The items given above present a statement of the work performed in this department the past year.

Figures show the omission of one Sunday service. That omission was unavoidable and is regretted.

BIBLE SCHOOL.

The attendance in each session of the bible school is the result of the immediate choice of those who have previously requested and become members of the school. The average number attending shows a fraction more than one-sixth of the prison population. The interest shown at each session of the school is good and is uniformly encouraging.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

Perhaps it will be noticed that the average attendance in teachers' meeting is nearly double the number of classes in the school. That excess has a two-fold object—the better instruction in the word of God, and prospective service in the gospel of Christ, either in the prison or elsewhere.

PRAYER MEETINGS.

Attendance in the prayer or conference meetings is placed on a basis like that of the bible school. The Tuesday evening meeting is made up by applications from one-quarter of the prison. The same is true of the make up of the Thursday evening meeting. The average number in attendance is a fraction more than one-third of those who might attend. The number attending these meetings shows about the following figures as an average:

Lord's day evening	120
Tuesday evening	55
Thursday evening	60

Of the spirit or incentive which prompts attendance in these meetings nothing need be said. The feeling, the spirit, and the interest in the meetings are pleasant, cheerful, and intelligently serious. The entire time of each session is filled with rational exercises in the spirit of true and humble devotion.

It will be remembered the aggregate of religious meetings for the year is given as three hundred and forty-two, a little less than nineteen-twentieths of the days of the year—none too many, but a fraction too few. A meeting each evening of the year, for social prayer and conference, for religious and moral instruction, would be a wise provision in all prisons, provided the population numbered seven hundred or more, giving each man the opportunity of one meeting per week. The hope of the positively criminal is in Christ, and in His truth and grace. As for his own moral resources,

"No hope for him there.
For his doom is to die."

The privilege of correspondence of the prisoners the past year has been the same as that of 1880. The rule and the regulation are unchanged—one letter per month for each man who wishes to write.

The convict library has been transferred to the care of the superintendent of the educational department.

It is known to you that the law gives each prisoner the privilege of choice in bibles. This provision of the law is strictly complied with. When a man is received an interview is had with him, in the course of which he is asked if he wishes a bible. If he answers in the negative, no bible is placed in his cell: if in the affirmative, he is further asked what bible he prefers, and the bible of his choice is given him. If he declines to make a choice at the time no bible is given him until he makes a selection. The same method is pursued in relation to prayer books. Every man is counseled to read and to follow his bible, and to make good use of his prayer book.

Denominationalism is untaught and uncared for in the gospel service of the prison. Every man is advised to hold fast to his former ecclesiastical relations. Nothing further is sought in the gospel ministrations of the prison than this, viz.: that each man give heart and life to Christ and His cause, and trust the love of God unto the eternal salvation of his soul. And those vital things are presented and urged with a singleness of purpose which recognizes no diversion and will listen to no qualifications.

BIBLE SCHOOL.

In the prison bible school the International Lesson series is in use. The greater number of teachers in this school, through necessity, are selected from the prisoners themselves. They are earnest, faithful men, and they work hard and for the truth. They believe the gospel of salvation and they are not ashamed of its doctrine. The only settled anxiety is that they continue as they now are after release. The superintendent of education is one of the teachers in the school, as also occasionally other officers. The results of work in this department are:

1. Increased interest in bible study.
2. Advancement in moral and religious strength.
3. Evident growth in gospel knowledge.
4. A more intelligent view of the privileges of divine worship.
5. A better state of feeling among the men towards each other.

Gentlemen, this is my report for the past year. In closing I wish to express my gratitude for the consideration and kindness I have received from you, from the warden, and with each officer with whom I have been associated in the work of the year now closed.

GEO. H. HICKOX,
Chaplain.
